

Why you NEED to follow your intuition #garyvee #shorts

I think if you're not scared that somebody can hurt you because you have your own self esteem you'll practice intuition More attention is the number one asset Do you think everyone has intuition I think everyone has intuition I think there's levels to it I think everybody can play basketball I don't know like all four of us in the room right now could go outside and play basketball My intuition on that is we will not look like the New York Knicks that play at Madison Square Garden no matter how bad of a basketball team they are they are dramatically better than the four of us I think a lot of people have been told not to believe in intuition which means they haven't practiced in intuition I think a lot of people are scared to get hurt so they don't go under intuition because when they have in the past somebody hurt them and they're scared to get hurt again Um I think there's a lot that goes into intuition but for me intuition is everything I think there's a direct correlation to intuition and self esteem So I think it takes risk to follow your intuition And I think if you're not scared that somebody can hurt you because you have your own self esteem you'll practice intuition more
